1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 21-41 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3 of U.S. Patent No. 6,143,326. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the patent teach the same method using a particular ibandronate formulation having specified excipients and amounts of said excipients while the claims of the application broadly claim the formulation generically. It has been well settled that obviousness-type double patenting rejections of application claims that are generic to species of invention covered by a patent are proper, since the patentee could gain an extension of term on a species when the broad genus is later issued, and since without terminal disclaimer, extant species claims preclude issuance of generic application claims. In re Emert, 44 USPQ2d 1152 (CAFC 1997); In re Goodman, 29 USPQ 2d 2010 (CAFC 1993); and In re Van Ornum, 214 USPQ 761, 767 (CCPA 1982).

3. Claims 21-41 are rejected.

4. Claims 1-20 have been canceled.
